Number Mufti Day in Aid of NSCPCC

On Friday 2nd February we will be holding a Mufti-Day for the NSPCC. All children to wear an item of clothing/clothes which contain a number/digit ie football shirt, hat, or a home made item with numbers or digits on it ie a white tee-shirt with black dots making a domino or lots of spots with different numbers on them. You could even wear a ONEsie! All this for a contribution of £1.00 to the NSPCC. There will also be a cake sale after school in the front playground. Any donations of cakes will be much appreciated, could you please bring into school by the morning of February 2nd. Many thanks.

Storytelling Festival

This week some of our children took part in a storytelling festival at Trafalgar School. All the children involved worked very hard and attended rehearsals. We are very proud of the way they represented our school with a mature and sensible attitude.

Times tables

Children being fluent in the recall of times table facts is a really crucial element which impacts on many areas of mathematics. We have had a fantastic response to the times table challenge and the children are collecting and wearing their badges with pride. We need your support in a big push this half term. Please encourage your children to practice for their next badge.
