Thinker: My Puppy Poet and Me

by Eloise Greenfield.

My favourite types of books to read are poetry books and this one does not disappoint. I love the main character Jace, and his very special pet dog. Jace is worried about what people might think of him at school when they hear him reciting poetry out loud. Will he realise it is best to always be yourself? You will love the beautiful illustrations which look just like the pages have been collaged.

The Secret Sky Garden by Linda Sarah.

I enjoy reading books about the environment so this book is perfect for anyone who likes the outdoors and gardening. It is a wonderful story about how Funni transforms an old airport carpark into a beautiful garden. My favourite part is the ending and where Funni makes a special friendship.

I Wish That I Had Duck Feet

by Dr. Seuss.

I read this book so many times as a child and I still love to read it now. The little boy wishes he was different but in the end he realises it is better just to be himself. I love this story because it reminds us all about what makes each of us special.

If you have read this Dr. Seuss book, don't worry he has 41 other books for you to try!

Where the Wild Things Are by Maurice Sendak.

I think books about monsters and aliens are fantastic! In this story Max pretends to be a wolf and then goes on an amazing journey where he meets lots of animals and monsters in his imagination. The illustrations in this story are also superb.

Perhaps Max's adventures will inspire your own imagination!
